Orlando Marra has been protecting the rights of injured people since 1989. With over 30 years of experience, Orlando is extremely well-versed in the complexities and nuances of the legal process. During his tenure at the firm, he has recovered millions of dollars for his clients. His practice is guided by the simple notion of integrity; that it is "never wrong to do the right thing." His philosophy of success is equally straightforward, based on the well-known quote from Will Rogers: "If you want to be successful, it's just this simple. Know what you are doing. Love what you are doing. And believe in what you are doing."

Orlando's clients appreciate his caring approach and his sensitivity to the hardships that they are going through. They also appreciate how he always treats them with the patience, empathy, and compassion they deserve.

Prior to joining Montlick & Associates in 1996, Orlando received his undergraduate degree from the University of St. Francis. He received his Juris Doctor from Mississippi College School of Law where he distinguished himself by winning the American Jurisprudence Award, an honor given to the person earning the highest grade in Torts.

Orlando is licensed to practice in Georgia and Florida. He grew up in Niagara Falls, New York, where he became a devout Buffalo Bills fan, and currently resides in the town of Dunwoody, Georgia. When he is not at work, he loves spending time with his family; his wife Marnie, daughters Elizabeth, Catherine, and Anna Rose, his son Robbie, and his sweet dog Dexter.
